VISION

Enabling innovation worldwide.

The emphasis is firmly placed on LFoundry's role as a facilitator and the positive effect its commitment in this direction has on the external environment.

The act of enabling conveys the notion of a reliable and receptive partner working to enhance its customers' performance, while the use of the gerund underlines the fact that this is already an act in progress.

What is more, enabling refers to mutually beneficial reliance whereby each element works together in order to progress together, framing the concept of innovation as a team effort in which LFoundry plays a crucial role within the wider community of innovators.

There is also an inferred link here to Key Enabling Technologies, which are considered fundamental factors in restarting industrial policy continent-wide, so this statement touches indirectly upon the notion of being European.

LFoundry is established as the ultimate partner to communicate an equally relevant message to suppliers, investors and the community at large.
